Summer Weed Pressure

Post Emergence Spraying

Those that were able to get crops in this spring are going to see extensive weed pressure in many fields. A lot of growers could not apply burn down treatments and were lucky to just get the crop in, so in many instances a healthy crop of weeds is crowding everything else out.

In most cases the window for Dicamba use has expired, so most herbicide applications will be glyphosate, with resulting "yellow flash." This can be minimized by adding SoilBiotics Growth Supplement 30 to the spray tank at 8 oz. per acre. Growth Supplement 30 added to glyphosate applications will provide a 7-10 day boost by stimulating the plants metabolism, transporting nutrients, and dissolving macro and micro elements to increase cellular health. In a challenging environment, this is an economical way to provide superior weed control plus increased crop production!
